My dear Sir

After a variety of strange adventures by flood and field, illustrative of Texas Mails, your letter of Dec 7 has reached me!

Send along your draft, with an account of books sold, and I will cash it and remit you the balance.

I am stationed at Austin - working in the same position as before.

Enclosed find blanks for school report.

I remained in Galveston with my family until a few weeks since, all of us had the fever but all recovered. Saw the account of your death but conclude now that it was a slight mistake.

Direct simply to me here (nobody's care) and it will reach me promptly.

Truly your friend

E. W. Wheelock
