NOTICE: WARNING CONCERNING COPYRIGHT RESTRICTIONS

The copyright law of the United States (Title 17, United States Code) governs the making of photocopies or other reproductions of copyrighted material. Under certain conditions specified in the law, libraries and archives are authorized to furnish a photocopy or other reproduction. One of these specific conditions is that the photocopy or reproduction is not to be "used for any purpose other than private study, scholarship, or research." If a user makes a request for, or later uses a photocopy or reproduction for purposes in excess of "fair use", that user may be liable for copyright infringement. This institution reserves the right to refuse to accept a copying order if in its judgment, fulfillment of the order would involve violation of copyright law.

Reproduction Policy

- The Library reserves the right to deny reproduction requests due to the condition of the original material and/or to avoid copyright infringement.
- A list of reproduction fees is available upon request. Additional fees may apply. Pre-payment is required. We accept payment by cash, credit card, check or money order made payable to Rosenberg Library.
- The Rosenberg Library may grant permission for a one-time, non-exclusive use of the duplicated materials for publication, exhibit, film/video productions, graphic arts, or other display purposes, when the proposed use is specified and the image is suitably presented. The Head of Special Collections will make the ultimate decision to allow the image to be used.
- Reproduction charges do not constitute sale of the image and the Rosenberg Library retains all existing rights to materials on file. The researcher will contact the Library for permission to use the image in the event the reproduction is to be used more than once.
- Reproductions may not be sold, given, transferred or copied for another person, company or organization for its use. Any second party use requires the Library’s permission.
- Reproductions from the Rosenberg Library will be credited with the standard credit line:
“[Name of Collection],” Courtesy of the Rosenberg Library, Galveston, Texas
- This credit line is to appear under or directly adjacent to the image(s) in a legible size font. If a publication or film/video production uses five or more images, the credit line may appear at the end.
- Any person, company or organization not abiding by the Rosenberg Library’s reproduction policies, including failure to give proper credit, will be denied further reproduction privileges.
- The Rosenberg Library is not responsible for any illegal or improper use of its materials, including infringement of copyright law.
- A complete copy of any publication or video production using reproduced materials from the Rosenberg Library must be given, without charge, to the Library for its collection.
- Once the order is taken, it cannot be changed or cancelled. The researcher is responsible for all charges once the work on the photo order begins.
